Most people have tried drugs sometime in their lives. An employer is basically interested in knowing if a job applicant falls into one of two categories.

Category A is an applicant who is addicted to drugs and is currently a heavy user. He or she is not dependable and may need some money to buy drugs.

Category B is the average applicant who will try some popular drugs out of curiosity or will use them socially. The majority of applicants fall into this category.

Currently, what kind of person are you? What are your current feelings about drugs?

I never drink or try drugs in my life. Our parents raised us in the belief not to try anything that is not good to us no matter how exciting it was.

In today's world we often work with people who behave and think in different ways. We are interested in your opinion and acceptance of these differences. How acceptable would a person be, if he or she currently:
